

A national recession is not the time to cut our investment in economic development. I am absolutely committed to bringing quality, high-paying jobs to the people of Mississippi. When I made my State of the State address, I spent 17 minutes in a 40 minute speech talking about jobs. I'm pleased the Legislature followed the budget recommendations offered in my executive budget proposal for the Mississippi Development Authority.