

Statement from Governor Ronnie Musgrove:

“The 1990’s were a time of great economic prosperity for the entire nation, and we were fortunate here in Mississippi to enjoy part of it. These statistics are especially encouraging considering the loss of manufacturing jobs we experienced during that same time. Our work on creating new jobs and ensuring quality education for our children is key to the future prosperity of our state.”