

Statement re: Year of the Blues

Our state is extraordinarily blessed with talent – talent that has made the rest of the world take notice and look to our land for inspiration. The talent of the world’s greatest blues artists has its roots deep in the Delta. From Robert Johnson to Son Thomas to B.B. King, and the hundreds of blues musicians in between, we should look with pride to this distinct Mississippi art form and celebrate it.