Holiday Season Time for Remembering

The decorations started going up long before Thanksgiving. Stores and malls began promoting sales and special offerings designed to lure shoppers to their establishments. Discussions about the national economic situation and the impact of holiday shopping on it were prominent on talk shows.

The holiday season has become
Torn between talking about real meaning for season.

Easy to work in time in Bosnia and the men and women over their who will not be home for Christmas.

Keeping the peace while we celebrate the holiday season.
Time he spent talking with the civilians of Bosnia. How thankful we should be for what we have. Even though we dealt with the impact of sept. 11, living every day with dodging bullets.

Those MS guardsmen are helping bring peace to a region that has not known peace.
