

Governor:

Patrice Sawyer is working on a weekend story about the health care proposal, and is asking again for the options we have as part of the plan. I would suggest a generic quote that will still answer the question:

“There is no limit to what we can explore, but there are options to be developed and I will offer some of those on Tuesday. As a start, I am suggesting we pursue waivers for school nurses and expanded cancer screenings, as well as other funding possibilities to address diabetes, heart disease, and improvements in our health insurance plan for state employees.”
