```
Received: from e3000b.state.ms.us by governor.state.ms.us; Tue, 23 Apr 2002 11:16:47 -0500 Received: from mailr.state.ms.us (mailr.state.ms.us [192.42.4.200]) by e3000b.state.ms.us (8.10.0/8.10.0) with SMTP id g3NGG7228226;
        Tue, 23 Apr 2002 11:16:07 -0500 (CDT)
Received: from host17.websitesource.com (host17.websitesource.com [209.239.36.194]) by mailr.state.ms.us (8.10.0/8.10.0) with ESMTP id g3NG3DQ17831;
        Tue, 23 Apr 2002 11:03:13 -0500 (CDT)
Received: (from nccp@localhost) by host17.websitesource.com (8.10.2/8.10.2) id g3NGCqs14500;
        Tue, 23 Apr 2002 12:12:52 -0400
Resent-Date: Tue, 23 Apr 2002 12:12:52 -0400
X-Authentication-Warning: host17.websitesource.com: nccp set sender to whatsnew-reque st@nccp.org using -f
Date: Tue, 23 Apr 2002 11:01:40 -0400
Message-Id: <200204231501.g3NF1et14314@host17.websitesource.com>
From: National Center for Children in Poverty <whatsnew@nccp.org>
To: whatsnew@nccp.org
Reply-To: whatsnew-request@nccp.org
Subject: April News From the National Center for Children in Poverty
MIME-Version: 1.0
Content-type: multipart/alternative;
        boundary="_____NEXT"
Resent-Message-ID: <"qQceX.A.4fD.VdXx8"@host17.websitesource.com>
Resent-From: whatsnew@nccp.org
X-Mailing-List: <whatsnew@nccp.org> archive/latest/3
X-Loop: whatsnew@nccp.org
Precedence: list
Resent-Sender: whatsnew-request@nccp.org

--_____NEXT
Content-Type: text/plain;
```

April News from the National Center for Children in Poverty

Welcome to NCCP's April listserv!

The whatsnew@nccp.org listserv provides subscribers with monthly updates on the research, activities, and overall work of the National Center for Children in Poverty.

Here's what's new at NCCP:

1. New policy brief series focuses on improving children's economic security by supporting parental employment
2. Check out NCCP's Early Childhood Poverty: A Statistical Profile
   - UPDATED!
3. Check out NCCP's Child Poverty Fact Sheet - UPDATED!
4. Understand the role of community development corporations in supporting young children
5. NCCP staffer testifies before New York City Council in child care issues
6. NCCP hosts book discussion with acclaimed author David Cohen
7. New chapter posted from Chasing the Red, White, and Blue

----

1. This important policy brief series focuses on state policy options that have the potential to improve children's economic security by increasing family income. More specifically, the series examines policies that seek to increase family income by encouraging, supporting, and rewarding work. Read the series introduction here:
   http://cpmcnet.columbia.edu/dept/nccp/improving_security_series.html

----

2. Inadequate nutrition, environmental toxins, diminished interaction due to maternal depression, trauma and abuse, lower quality child care, and parental substance abuse. These are some of the risk factors associated with poverty in early childhood. Visit here to learn why the first years of life are more important than had been thought for children's emotional and intellectual development, and why millions of children in the United States are at developmental risk:
   http://cpmcnet.columbia.edu/dept/nccp/ecp302.html

----

3. Did you know that America's children are almost twice as likely to live in poverty as Americans in any other age group (16 percent compared to 9-10 percent for working and retired adults)? Visit here to learn more:
   http://cpmcnet.columbia.edu/dept/nccp/ycpf.html

----

4. The National Center for Children in Poverty reviews what community-based organizations in low-income communities and neighborhoods are doing to promote the healthy development of low-income young children and families through child development and family support strategies. Visit here to learn more:
   http://cpmcnet.columbia.edu/dept/nccp/roleCDC.html

----

5. Kimberly Barnes-O'Connor, chief operating officer of LIFT, testified before the New York City Council on March 6 in the City Council Chambers at City Hall in New York City. The hearing focused on child care for the working poor and for individuals transitioning off welfare in New York, and specifically on supplantation of federal child care funds. Read her testimony at:
   http://cpmcnet.columbia.edu/dept/nccp/kboc-testimony.html

----

6. NCCP hosted an event entitled, "What Would Tocqueville Say Were He to Return to America Today?" on Columbia University's Morningside Heights campus on April 8. David Cohen, author of Chasing the Red, White, and Blue: A Journey in Tocqueville's Footsteps Through Contemporary America, led a provocative discussion on the modern-day "haves" and "have-nots" in the United States. To read some of Chasing the Red, White, and Blue, please visit:
   http://cpmcnet.columbia.edu/dept/nccp/chasing/index.html

----

7. Read David Cohen's observations of the "haves" and "have-nots" in America on his journey through the Rust Belt in Flint, Michigan. Don't forget to follow the Chasing links and read our Q&A with David.

   Chasing the Red, White, and Blue Chapter 2:
     http://cpmcnet.columbia.edu/dept/nccp/chasing/chasing-2-0.html
   Talking to David Cohen:
     http://cpmcnet.columbia.edu/dept/nccp/chasing/qa.html

Thank you.

```
--_____NEXT
Content-Type: text/html;

<html>
<style type="text/css">
<!--
p, h1, h2, h3, h4, ul, ol, li, a {  font-family: Verdana, Arial, Helvetica, sans-seri f} p, ol, ul, li, a { font-size: 12px}
-->
</style>

<body bgColor="#FFFFFF">
<h3>April News from the National Center for Children in Poverty</h3>
Welcome to NCCP's April listserv! The whatsnew@nccp.org listserv provides subscribers with monthly updates on the research, activities, and overall work of the National Center for Children in Poverty.
<hr>
<h4>Here's what's new at NCCP:</h4>
<ol> <li>New policy brief series focuses on improving children's economic security by supporting parental employment <li>Check out NCCP's Early Childhood Poverty: A Statistical Profile - UPDATED!
  <li>Check out NCCP's Child Poverty Fact Sheet - UPDATED!
  <li>Understand the role of community development corporations in supporting young children <li>NCCP staffer testifies before New York City Council in child care issues <li>NCCP Hosts Book Discussion With Acclaimed Author David Cohen <li>New Chapter posted from Chasing the Red, White, and Blue </ol>
<hr>
<table border=0 cellpadding=0 cellspacing=0><tr><td>
      <h4>Improving Children's Economic Security: Research Findings About Increasing Family Income Through Employment</h4> This important policy brief series focuses on state policy options that have the potential to improve children's economic security by increasing family income. More specifically, the series examines policies that seek to increase family income by encouraging, supporting, and rewarding work.
        <a href="http://cpmcnet.columbia.edu/dept/nccp/improving_security_series.html
">Click
        here to read the series introduction.
</td></tr></table>
<hr>
<table border=0 cellpadding=0 cellspacing=0><tr><td>
<img src="http://cait.cpmc.columbia.edu:88/dept/nccp/images/ECPprofile302-sm.jpg" wid th=72 height=93 align=left hspace=10 vspace=5>
<h4>Early Childhood Poverty: A Statistical Profile </h4> Inadequate nutrition, environmental toxins, diminished interaction due to maternal depression, trauma and abuse, lower quality child care, and parental substance abuse. These are some of the risk factors associated with poverty in early childhoo d.

  Click here to learn why the first years of life are more important than had been thought for children's emotional and intellectual development, and why millions of children in the United States are at developmental risk.
</td></tr></table>
<hr>
<table border=0 cellpadding=0 cellspacing=0><tr><td>
```

<img src="http://cait.cpmc.columbia.edu:88/dept/nccp/images/ycpf-small.gif" width=72 height=93 hspace=10 vspace=5 align=left>

Child Poverty Fact Sheet

Did you know that America's children are almost twice as likely to live in poverty as Americans in any other age group (16 percent compared to 9-10 percent for working and retired adults)? Click here to learn more.

</td></tr></table>
<hr>
<table border=0 cellpadding=0 cellspacing=0><tr><td>
<img src="http://cait.cpmc.columbia.edu:88/dept/nccp/images/roleCDC-sm.jpg" width=72 height=93 hspace=10 vspace=5 align=left>

The Role of Community Development Corporations in Promoting the Well-Being of Young Children

The National Center for Children in Poverty reviews what community-based organizations in low-income communities and neighborhoods are doing to promote the healthy development of low-income young children and families through child development and family support strategies. Click here to learn more.

</td></tr></table>
<hr>
<table border=0 cellpadding=0 cellspacing=0><tr><td>

Chief Operating Officer of LIFT Campaign Testifies at New York City Council Hearing

Kimberly Barnes-O'Connor, chief operating officer of LIFT, testified before the New York City Council on March 6 in the City Council Chambers at City Hall in New York City. The hearing focused on child care for the working poor and for individuals transitioning off welfare in New York, and specifically on supplantation of federal child care funds. Click here to read her testimony.

</td></tr></table>
<hr>
<table border=0 cellpadding=0 cellspacing=0>
  <tr>
    <td> <img src="http://cait.cpmc.columbia.edu:88/dept/nccp/images/chasing_reading.jpg" width=75 hspace=10 vspace=5 align=left>

NCCP Hosts Book Discussion With Acclaimed Author David Cohen

NCCP hosted an event entitled, "What Would Tocqueville Say Were He to Return to America Today?" on Columbia University's Morningside Heights campus on April 8. David Cohen, author of Chasing the Red, White, and Blue: A Journey in Tocqueville's Footsteps Through Contemporary America, led a provocative discussion on the modern-day "haves" and "have-nots" in the United States. To read some of Chasing the Red, White, and Blue, please click here.

    </td>
  </tr>
</table>
<hr>
<table border=0 cellpadding=0 cellspacing=0>
  <tr>
    <td>

New Chapter Posted from Chasing the Red, White, and Blue

Read the author's observations of the &quot;haves&quot; and &quot;have-nots&qu ot;

```
          in America on his journey through the Rust Belt in Flint, Michigan. Don't forget to follow the Chasing links and read our Q&amp;A with David.  </td>
    </tr>
</table>
<hr>
To unsubscribe from this list, send an e-mail message to: whatsnew-request@nccp.org,
   and put "unsubscribe" in the subject line. Thank you. </body>
</html>

--_____NEXT--
```