Message: Dear Sir:

I recently heard a news story that you had initiated a directive that all public schools within your state were to prominently display the phrase "In God We Trust" on their campus grounds. We here at IntenseRadio.com, a Christian internet radio station, are as amazed as we are delighted that you would take what in today's society will be considered a bold step toward influencing the spirituality of your state's children for the better.

We are already showing support for this move within some of our broadcasts, and if you have an official media statement, or would like to share any direct comments with us, please contact us at the information provided on this form. We would be happy to have some direct quotables to use in our backing of your decision, and we look forward to seeing how this story develops. We hope we can be of service to you in this cause.

Thank you for your contribution to the greater good in the eyes of God.

- Jon Webb, IntenseRadio.com
