Former Senatobia Mayor Joins Staff of Governor Musgrove

Jackson, MS – Steve Hale, former mayor of Senatobia, has joined Governor Ronnie Musgrove’s staff as a senior policy advisor for economic development. Hale began work on Monday, July 30.

“I am proud to have Steve as a part of my staff,” Musgrove said. “He brings a tremendous depth of knowledge about the economic development arena to this office, and his work will positively affect communities around the state.”

Hale received his degree in business from Mississippi State University. He served as an alderman for the City of Senatobia from 1989-93, and as mayor from 1993-2001. He served on the board of directors for the North Delta Planning District, and currently serves on the board of Peoples Bank in Senatobia.

He and his wife, Cynthia, have two children.
