Prayer Service Scheduled at State Capitol

Jackson, MS – Governor Ronnie Musgrove and religious leaders from the Jackson area will be holding a prayer service on Friday, September 14, 2001, on the south steps of the New Capitol. The service is scheduled for 12:00 noon.

Musgrove is calling for Mississippians to join him in support of President George Bush's proclamation of Friday as a National Day of Prayer and Remembrance.

“As a people and a nation, we are united in our grief over Tuesday's events,” Musgrove said. “I encourage every Mississippian to take time Friday for reflection and prayer for those killed and injured in the terrorist attacks. I would urge those in the Jackson area to gather at the Capitol to share our strength, our resolve and our belief in a power greater than those which would pull us apart.”
