

For Immediate Release

October 10, 2003

Contact: Shannon McMullan

601-359-3227

Governor Musgrove Proclaims “Court Observance Week”

(Jackson, MS) – Governor Ronnie Musgrove has proclaimed the week of October 13, 2003, as “Court Observance Week” to acknowledge the contributions the legal support staff of judges and attorneys make to the American Justice System.

“We would like to commend the legal support staff who work diligently behind the scenes,” said Musgrove. “Without the administrative and technical assistance that they provide to our courts, government, and the business and private law sectors, the wheels of our vast and complex American Justice System would be stymied.”

The Jackson Legal Professionals Association/ Mississippi Division of NALS (the association for legal professionals) will be holding programs throughout “Court Observance Week” for legal support staff, to enhance their skills and competence levels so they may better serve their employers and the judicial system. This years NALS theme for “Court Observance Week” is “ And Justice For All.”

###