

For Immediate Release

April 10, 2003

Contact: John Sewell

601-359-2916

Internship Opportunities in the Office of the Governor

(Jackson, MS) – Governor Ronnie Musgrove is looking for students who are eager to learn government first-hand as interns in the Office of the Governor. The internship positions offer an up-close and personal look at the Governor’s office and the hard work and preparations that take place behind the scenes.

“Our internship program gives experience to graduate and under graduate level students who want to gain skills in a professional setting,” said Musgrove. “These skills are a valuable part of education and will surely help students in future job pursuits and situations.”

The program offers internships in areas such as communications, policy and planning, and scheduling and advance coordination, to name a few. Many students have already taken advantage of the internship opportunities available in the Governor’s Office and have carried valuable experience with them to the job.

The application deadlines for interning this summer and fall are April 12 and August 1. To find the application and learn more about the internship program in the Governor’s Office, go to www.governor.state.ms.us.

###