

A Proclamation
By
Governor Ronnie Musgrove

WHEREAS, the State of Mississippi is grateful for the work of civic leaders who labor tirelessly in their local communities to make them a better place to live; and

WHEREAS, Raymond Wong of Greenville is one such leader who has had a positive influence on his community, region, and the State of Mississippi through his efforts; and

WHEREAS, Raymond has long been a successful businessman in Greenville, operating the oldest Chinese restaurant in Mississippi, How Joy, and Riverland Printworks; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, President of the Delta Center Stage, Director of the Greenville Balloon Festival, Rotary Club, and President of the WABG March of Dimes Telethon are just a few examples of his civic leadership in the Greenville and Delta community; and

WHEREAS, his involvement with the March of Dimes Telethon several years ago led Raymond to co-host the Good Morning Mississippi show on WABG as part of his service to the community in highlighting the positive developments in the Mississippi Delta; and

WHEREAS, the citizens of Mississippi remain grateful for leaders such as Raymond Wong who give their time and energy toward the advancement and welfare of this entire region of the State:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Ronnie Musgrove, Governor of the State of Mississippi, hereby proclaim May 31, 2002, as in the State of Mississippi, and take the opportunity of this important occasion to recognize the special contributions of Raymond Wong.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Mississippi to be affixed.

DONE in the City of Jackson, May 30, 2002, in the two hundred and twenty-fifth year of the United States of America.

RONNIE MUSGROVE
GOVERNOR
