Governor Musgrove Proclaims “Senator Thad Cochran Day”

(Jackson, MS) – Governor Ronnie Musgrove has proclaimed October 17, 2003, as “Senator Thad Cochran Day” in honor of his unselfish and dedicated humanitarian service to this great state.

“For years Senator Cochran has worked diligently in Washington for the benefit of all Mississippians and our communities,” said Musgrove.

Senator Cochran is an advocate for the Traumatic Brain Injury Program and has supported the implementation and planning of grants to States for coordination and improvement of services to individuals and families with traumatic brain injury.

During fiscal year 2003 and 2004 Senator Cochran championed a bill that would fund a “One-Stop Call” information center that links persons with brain injuries to information, resources and services throughout the country.

Senator Cochran will be honored for his contributions to traumatic brain injury and disability on October 17, 2003, and will be presented THE FOUNDERS AWARD from the Brain Injury Association of Mississippi.
