

GOVERNOR'S DAILY NEWS SUMMARY

Wednesday March 7, 2001

Clarion Ledger Jackson, Mississippi

Is WorldCom for sale?
Undercount expected to hurt Mississippi
Jackson airport earns praise
Lobby group organized to push flag change
Justices prepare to go online
Proposal to lower dropout age axed
Stokes, flag activist Giles clash
Editorials

Sun Herald Biloxi, Mississippi

Census will stand; dispute won't die
School dropout age bill reversed
MDOT bill scaled back by senators
Column: Children are more important than Rebel flags and dimpled chads
Editorial: Why have lawmakers become so hostile toward our children?

Northeast Mississippi Daily Journal Tupelo, Mississippi

April 17 flag election to cost Alcorn County taxpayers \$10,000
Senate rejects appointed transportation commission
Compulsory school attendance bill killed
Legislation on control of historical preservation prompts flag
Senate rejects appointed transportation commission
Group pushing for new flag files papers
Hunting seen as boost to landowners

Desoto Appeal Desoto, Mississippi

**Business leaders to push new state flag**

Desoto Times Today, Hernando, Mississippi

On the flag issue: Mississippians tend to vote on emotions rather than economics

Natchez Democrat Natchez, Mississippi

Mississippi's long, poor legacy needs to change

Read Our View

Meridian Star, Meridian Mississippi

• First glimpse at new census data

Hattiesburg American Hattiesburg, Mississippi

Preservation bill criticized
Area residents mourn the loss of two former public servants