

GOVERNOR'S DAILY NEWS SUMMARY

Thursday, September 5, 2002

Clarion Ledger Jackson

Lawmakers to tackle tort reform

WorldCom case may widen

Preparedness, prevention priorities

Terrorist attacks catalyst for several new Miss. laws

State workers' premiums rising

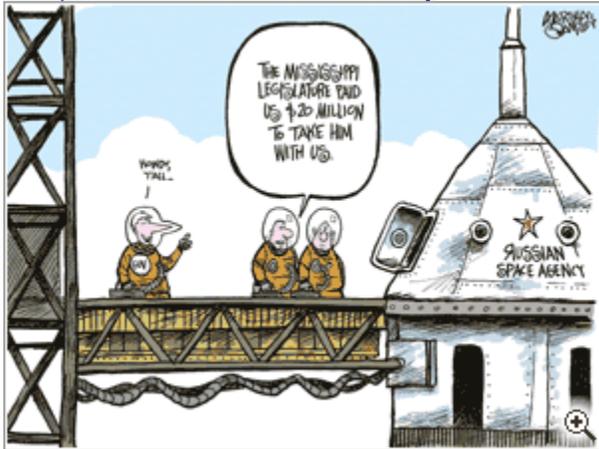

Doctor files suit claiming group intimidated him

Editorials

Special session: Lawmakers must adopt tort reform

And . . . : Runaway jury 'wild card' is the key

Good, fair tort reform for all necessary

The Sun Herald Biloxi

Tort reform tips offered to legislators

More insurance rate increases on way for state workers

Clashing interest groups expected at Capitol for session

Health department targets Spanish speakers in West Nile warnings

Doctor, lawyer quizzed on tort reform

Special session's hottest topic isn't on the agenda

State is ready, but still waiting on money for voting upgrade

Northeast Mississippi Daily Journal Tupelo

Musgrove loses veto fight

Sides line up for civil justice special session

The Commercial Appeal Memphis, TN

Inmate transfers proceed in Miss.

Tort reform may make it to the front burner yet

Hattiesburg American

Legislators applaud session change

City council backs tort reform

It's time to speak out on tort reform

State needs fewer elected officials

Meridian Star

Laurel Leader-Call

Stateline.org

The Clarksdale Press Register

Clarksdale attorney offers opposing view on tort reform

Why would Moore want governor's job?

The Bolivar Commercial Cleveland

Enterprise Journal McComb

The Greenwood Commonwealth

Prison board keeping up hope

More state cuts may mean layoffs

One more hurdle, one more to go

The Natchez Democrat

Mississippi Business Journal

Magnolia Report

Insiders predict no tort reform

The New York Times

Wider WorldCom Case Is Called Likely

The Washington Post

The Washington Times

