

Welty and the Craft of Writing

Welty and the Craft of Writing is a DVD and CD-ROM media resource kit for teachers and includes film of Welty reading three of her most studied short stories: "A Worn Path," "Petrified Man," and "Why I Live at the P.O." The films also contain short interviews with Welty about her work. Each story segment is between 26 and 29 minutes long.

The kit also contains a companion CD-ROM with manuscripts, correspondence, and photographs by Welty relating to each story. These materials, which are part of the Welty Collection at the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, give valuable context and insight into the creation of these stories. A Guide for Teachers with suggested questions for students is included.

To receive a kit, visit www.eudorawelty.org, and click on the Resources tab. An order form is there, along with an evaluation for you to complete upon using the materials. For any additional questions contact the Welty House at (601) 353-7762.

These materials are available free of charge thanks to a generous grant from the Field Cooperative Association, Inc. Original funding for project development was provided by the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Comcast Foundation.
