THE MISSISSIPPI HALL OF FAME

Old Capitol Museum
Jackson, Mississippi

What is the Mississippi Hall of Fame?

The many portraits that hang in the Old Capitol Museum constitute the Mississippi Hall of Fame, which honors individuals who have made significant contributions to the state.

In 1902, Dunbar Rowland, the first director of the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, began the Hall of Fame as a "collection of portraits of the great men of Mississippi." He saw the portraits as a means to "stimulate state pride and patriotism" and to "honor the walls" of the New Capitol building, then being constructed. The Hall of Fame was moved to the Old Capitol in 1961.

Today, the Mississippi Hall of Fame has over 100 members and continues to recognize distinguished Mississippians while reflecting the diversity of the state's population.
